1 Corinthians 13

“The Love Chapter”

“Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I have become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal.

And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing.

And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, but have not love, it profits me nothing.

Love suffers long and is kind; love does not envy; love does not parade itself, is not puffed up;

Does not behave rudely, does not seek its own, is not provoked, thinks no evil;

Does not rejoice in iniquity, but rejoices in the truth;

Bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

Love never fails. But whether there are prophesies, they will fail; whether there are tongues, they shall cease; whether there is knowledge, it will vanish away.

For we know in part and we prophesy in part. But when that which is perfect has come, then that which is in part will be done away.

Bible Verses of the Month

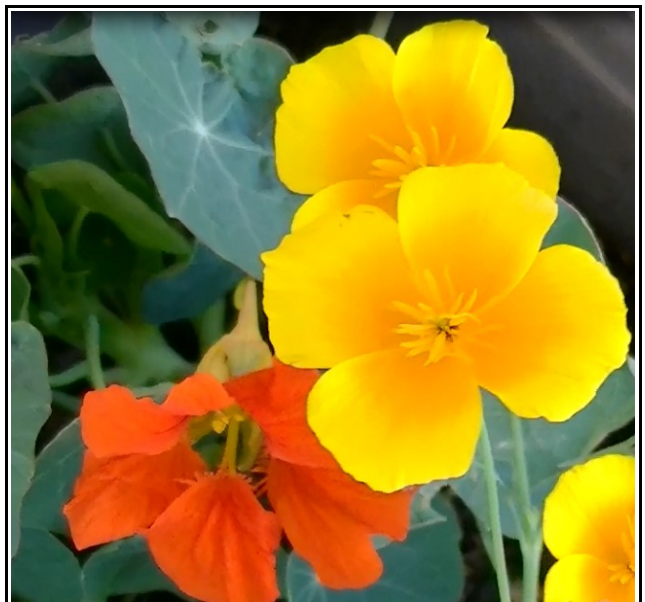

“But concerning brotherly love you have no need that I should write to you, for you yourselves are taught by God to love one another; and indeed, you do so toward all the brethren who are in all Macedonia. But we urge you, brethren, that you increase more and more; that you also aspire to lead a quiet life, to mind your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you, that you may walk properly toward those who are outside, and that you may lack nothing.

-1 Thess. 4: 9-12

When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then shall I know just as I also am known.

And now abide faith, hope, love, these three: but the greatest of these is love.”

The Quest: The Last Race Part One

It is widely known that the Rose children have discovered something about the Quest, and it appears as if the rival team has found it out! They announced their knowledge on the 16th of March: "We have discovered through some spy work what the Roses have discovered, and we mean to beat them to it!" That was what Laura Moffat declared, and it appears as if they are in earnest as they have gotten a guide and are packing for what looks like a hike into the wilderness.

On the opposing side, the Roses and Firs are in a frenzy. They have gotten Thomas Rose, the millionaire brother who owns jethrick mines in Greenland County, to be their guide in addition to John Fir, the husband of Mr. Rose's daughter Serena. They are also packing. It must be noted that several gun and a some daggers are among their gear so that it appears as if they are going somewhere that might hold dangers.

"We are packing as quickly as possible, yet trying to bring only the most essential items," said Velvet Rose. Rope, weapons, food, an extra pair of clothing, and blankets seems to be the rawest essentials. "Where we are going is known only to our parents, the police department, and ourselves," said George Fir. "For secrecy, we will not disclose where we are headed, but when we return, we will have a tale to tell."

Obviously, they still suspect that the opposing side does not know where to go. "It might be a trick to get us to reveal where it is," explained Velvet to the reporter. "And that is certainly not what we want to do."

The other side insists that they do know, though they also have refused to reveal to the reporters where they are going.

It is only a matter of time before each team sets off and races for the last part of the Quest. Then we shall discover the winning team!

A.F.O. Helps Negotiate Peace Between Warring Irisland Factions

Ever since the third civil war erupted in Irisland, nations have been pleading that the two factions: Freedom Fighters and Patriots try for peace. The most active organization in promoting this has been the A.F.O. After the questionable ordeal in December that has tarnished its reputation, the A.F.O. seems to now be attempting to remove the scandal from the memories of its neighbors by emerging as a peace maker.

At the A.F.O.'s insistence, the F.F. and the Patriots have begun meeting together around a peace table and arguing over the issues that have been dividing them for the past few months.

"It is now a war of words – such a war will eventually be won by persuasion and compromises," said the A.F.O. Lee Harold who is overseeing the talks. "So far, the Patriots have been putting up a great stand against the F.F., insisting that they become independent. It is only a matter of time before the F.F. gives in to our demands."

This hopeful attitude seems to have spread among the other nations of Animal. Since the A.F.O.'s involvement, it has begun to be looked up to as a "keeper of the peace" according to The London Times and "an organization that upholds its name, giving freedom to the oppressed," as the Moscow Letter reported blithely on the 11th of May. However, the Johnson Herald of Australia seems to disagree, saying: "The A.F.O. is not a peace keeper. It's goal is one of deception and lies. It might be appearing to the world peaceful, yet inside it is rotten to the core: it is an organization that seeks to quench the happiness and freedom of others." Sadly, the reporter, Jackie Gurl, could not be contacted by reporters, and the Herald refused to answer any further questions.

The nations of Animal are looking at Kirjak, Irisland where the peace talks are taking place in hopeful expectation as the A.F.O. negotiates peace between the F.F. and the Patriots. If these talks succeed, it will bring such glory that it will cover the bloodstains on the A.F.O., certainly something they are hoping to do.

A.F.O. Member Elected to Russian Parliament

The Russian elections for Parliament have ended, and Jamiel Kirt of the A.F.O. can be found among the elected. Her election has been quite surprising and unexpected as she was not popular among the people, according to poll data received just before the election; however, it appears as if the tide had shifted in favor of her during the 48 hours that elapsed from the time the data was published to the election day. This odd and disquieting news has been glossed over by the Moscow Herald who was a staunch supporter of Kirt throughout the campaign season, and very few Russians are fully aware of the fact. The Russian Parliament has also welcomed Kirt and officially installed her as the representative of the Kirtstovf County.

Tolsek II Exploration Trip Is On!

Fred and Co. has sent out an exploration trip to the Tolsek system. Their estimated time of arrival will be March 15th. They have taken with them the supplies to build a jump gate.

The crew of the F.C. Drovel, the transport, are Joseph MacBroom, Esau Quaster, Ulfried Kimble, and Zachary Young. They will take with them three robots to build the gate, surveying equipment, supplies, hiking gear, oxygen tanks, a car, and gasoline.

The four-man crew are expected to be back on April 30th. They are to have a map of the most promising sites for colonization, water samples, and with pictures of the planet's flora and fauna.

After the company has decided on a place for the colony, they intend to start a mass colonization project. The A.S.S.E. is going to have a hard time competing with the Fred&Co. plans.

Fred&Co. Multi-Jump Gate Project Is Starting

Fred & Co. is starting a new project called the movable gate project. Construction will begin in July 2015 with the first part of the structure. It's estimated time of completion is December 2015, if nothing bad happens. The main problem, is that the star gate will have to be in orbit. Therefore, it will take hours to align to a system. This setup, however, will conserve fuel and make it more efficient because it will not require multiple gates, thus using less resources. However, this is not named properly, in that it should be called something like the Jump Gate Orbit Project. The Animalzanian Times looks forward to its outcome.

Weaponry Advances

The A.S.S.E. and Fred & Co. have been working together to achieve a laser weaponry program that will announce it's progress in June. They are hiring some of the top scientists, namely Degar Bolsiv and Yamaka Ponk who are renowned for their work in the fastest hammer in a rifle.

Yamaka will working on a rail rifle. Rail rifles fire bullets at high speeds, allowing one bullet to dent tungsten armor. One major issue with this weapon it that it is very likely to have high kickback. Yamaka's prototype has issues because it easily jams.

Bolsiv shall be working on downsizing his laser technology that will allow his laser to work without being bulky and having serious malfunctions. This weapon will be prone to overheating due to the fact it fires light.

This project, called the Laser and Rail Rifle Perfection, is well under way. It's estimated time of completion is this October.

"I Will Rejoice"

Though life's clouds may block
The sunshine,
Though life's winds might howl
Around me,
I will rejoice in Thee.

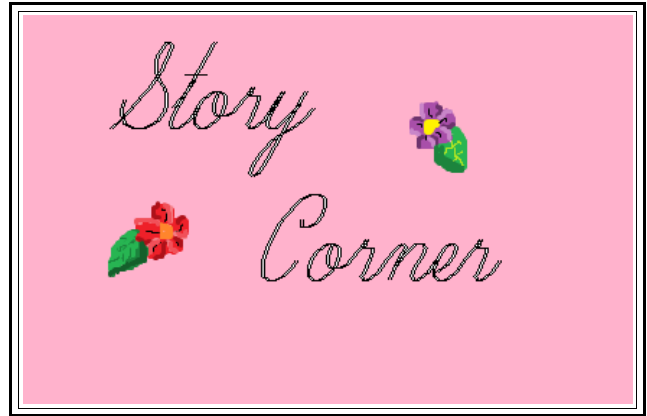

For I know that though
Clouds might be around me,
You are there beside me.
I will rejoice in Thee.

When the clouds are past,
And sunshine fills my life,
Lord, I don't want to forget Thee.
I want to rejoice in Thee.

Keep my mind on Thee, O Lord,
Even on the brightest day.
Oh, how I don't want to forget Thee,
Even on the darkest day.
I want to rejoice in Thee.

Lord, I want to rejoice in Thee,
Even if the days are good or evil.
Lord, I want to rejoice in Thee
Every day of my life.

Title: "The Woman Who Played With the World" Part 4

Author: Elyzabeth McDunn

Earth's orbit has changed, and strange ominous things are happening at Arthur's friend's house. Beatrice seems to be the person behind these happenings – her and her globe that seems to be connected to her in some way. Beatrice's sudden desire for world power has caused Arthur much worry, and after trying to convince her to stop, he decides to enlist the help of his friend Thomas. However, his hopes that Beatrice had changed her mind are crushed when an apparition of her appears, demanding the control of Earth or else...

"We can't just sit here," began Thomas.
"We need to go to the town officials."

"They're already coming," said Arthur.
"Can't you hear their pounding footsteps?"

A few seconds later, Thomas' door flew open and four frightened men and a woman entered the room.

"Thom – Thomas," stammered the mayor as he adjusted his glasses, "did that pha – phantom come here? D– Did you two see it?"

"Yes. What do you think of her demand?" asked Thomas.

"We're planning on accepting it. All of us – except Miss C – think we should."

"Have you ever seen such cowardly men!" exclaimed Miss C –, unable to control herself any further. "Men who cower and willingly relinquish their liberty to someone that they do not know are cowards!"

"She will change the rotation of the Earth!" whimpered the mayor. "Who knows if it will effect the Earth in a deadly way! Scientists say that--."

"Do I really care what --!"

"Listen! Gentlemen, lady," began Arthur who was intending to reveal the harsh truth, "this phenomena is caused by a globe, an unusual globe that is owned by a woman, my friend Beatrice L --. If we could just get rid of the globe, I am sure we could end this forever."

"Preposterous!" exclaimed the mayor, gazing at Arthur through his glass lenses till his eyes were bulging. "We can't -- this is not a science fiction story. There are no such things as globes that can be connected to people psychologically."

"But it happens to be that there are," insisted Arthur. "We must figure a way to obtain this globe before the 48 hours are up. But we can't just seize it; therefore, we must have a warrant. We must not break the law."

"And how are you going to convince the police to give you a warrant?" asked the mayor sarcastically. "You have no proof beyond your own word; and that certainly is not enough, especially in a time like this when thousands of people are panicking. You have no proof that this woman -- this Beatrice L -- is the same Beatrice L -- that sent the message."

"We can talk to the head of police and reason with him. As for proof of her identity, we can look her up in the town records, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, etc. and see if she matches the shade of Beatrice." Thomas went on, "I am sure that if we were not hallucinating -- and doesn't it seem improbable that we were considering that there are five of us -- that the security cameras would have caught her on video. Therefore we can use this and Arthur's written testimony as proof for the police."

The mayor let out a decided "humph!" and replied in mock politeness, "Well, you two gentlemen and Miss C -- can carry on your enterprise. I am going to do what I believe is best. May your endeavor succeed." His sarcastic comment and leering grin was met with silence.

For a few seconds, they stood on opposite sides. Then Thomas strode to the door and held it open. Gesturing towards the hall, he said sincerely, "Good day, Mr. T -- and good luck."

Mr. T -- grew red and shuffled out of the room leaving his three companions staring silently at Thomas and Arthur.

"Well, what about the rest of you?" asked Arthur wearily. "If you want to help us, stay. If not the door is open. You can leave."

The three men glanced uneasily at each other as if waiting to see what the other would do. Miss C -- stepped forward:

"I'll help you! I agree with what you say. As for the rest of you (she turned to the three men who were attempting to leave the room unnoticed by her) hear me! I am a woman. Weak though I be, I am brave and have courage. You can flee and leave it to us to fight. But be men! Do not be cowards, but be men whom people admire and look up to. If you back down from this, you give your glory to a girl and to these men. But I see that you will not join us. Therefore, go and good luck to you!"

Very embarrassed, the men scrambled for the door. The last tripped over the threshold in his haste, bringing a smile to Miss C --'s lips.

Thomas closed the door after the retreating men, and the three adults stood in silence, looking at each other and knowing that it was only they who were determined to prove that Beatrice was behind everything that had occurred to humankind during the last few days.

"I will write up what I witnessed at Beatrice's house," began Arthur at last. "Thomas can check the security camera's recordings, and if it shows the shade that we saw, then prepare the recording to be sent to the police station. Miss C --, could you look her up in the town's records and whatever else that comes to your mind. We need pictures."

"Will do," said Miss C -- as she sat down in one of the chairs and got out her laptop that she had been carrying in her bag. She connected it to Thomas' printer and began searching. Meanwhile, Thomas got into the city building's security system, and Arthur sat at the desk typing his testimony up.

After a many hours, they reassembled together and declared their findings. Thomas had been able to collect four different recordings of the shade and had put it onto a disc. Arthur had his printed testimony, but Miss C – presented a stack of printed papers.

“These have pictures, documents, etc. about Beatrice L –, and I am quite confident that they will be useful,” said Miss C – as she began to place the papers into a notebook.

Thomas agreed and praised her work.

“However, as good as these items are, we do not know what has been going on. Perhaps it is already too late to convince people.”

Arthur looked up at his friend in fear.

“Please don't say that, Thomas. Surely we could get the media to help us. I am a writer for our town's newspaper – I could write something.”

Thomas frowned, “I am not optimistic at all – I never was. But I believe the media will not help us.”

“Arthur, they will be urging people to give in to her demands in order to save humanity from disaster – that will be the way they will state it,” put in Miss C –.

Arthur sat for a while. “Turn on the TV, Thomas, please. Maybe you are right.”

Quickly, Thomas got out the remote, turned on the TV, and switched to a news channel.

The reporter was standing on a corner of Fresno saying, “The panicked crowds saw the shade of Beatrice L – this afternoon. Luckily, we were able to capture the appearance on tape (the TV screen played the recording). Millions of people worldwide have reported seeing this strange apparition simultaneously. The UK was the first of the world's nations to agree to the woman's demands. The Prime Minister stated that he hopes to keep humanity safe and urges other nations to follow his example. India, South Africa, Canada, Australia, and Spain have also announced their willingness to comply. The United States, however, is still arguing over whether or not to comply. Texas, Montana, Alaska, Hawaii, the Dakotas, Idaho, and New Mexico have declared that they will not comply.

Californians show a mixture of both willingness and unwillingness. The rest of the states believe that it would be – to quote the words of the President – “better to save mankind that be responsible for many innocent deaths.” The President has been strongly urging Congress to declare themselves under the allegiance of Beatrice L –. The UN has also begun to put pressure on the –.”

Thomas flipped the channel. “CNN was always biased,” he muttered.

The next channel happened to be FOX:

“It appears as if the answer to the catastrophic orbit change,” said the FOX reporter, “has come in the form of Beatrice L –. This afternoon, millions of appearances of this woman were witnessed by people worldwide. This has been caught on video by many people. The following clip was taken in Romania (the video was played).

“This woman's demand and threat have caused many nations' governments to give in in hopes that they will save humanity. Britain along with many other countries has led the way, leaving the United States, Russia, China, and Japan the only major nations that have not given in. Congress has been arguing – almost to the point of violence – over the issue. Texas has declared that it will “never give up its freedom for the rule of a dictator.” Idaho, Montana, California, Alaska, and twenty-five other states have joined Texas in its stance.

“The President, meanwhile, has been encouraging and urging these states to reconsider their stance and has accused them of “desiring to spill the innocent blood of millions for the selfish idea of freedom and democracy.” These states however have declared that they do not want to give up their autonomy for a temporary peace.”

The TV began to show the commercials. Thomas switched off the TV and put the remote on the desk.

“We can still do this,” said Arthur jumping to his feet. “we should all go to the police station at once and present our evidence.”

End of Part 4
Part 5 will be continued.

How are you saved?

Do you know Jesus Christ as your personal Savior? If not, you need to know Him.

Every one has a problems with sin. Ever since Adam and Eve disobeyed God in the Garden of Eden by eating the fruit which God had told them not to eat, all of mankind has sinned (Genesis 2:15-3). The Ten Commandments which God gave to the Israelites at Mount Sinai shows us our sin and reveals that we are unable to be perfect (Exodus 20:1-17). In Romans, you can read: "There is no one righteous, no not one;... There is no one who does good, no not one (Romans 3:10 and 12b)." It also says in Romans 3:23: "For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God." We have all sinned and are separated from God. Because of sin, we have death ["For the wages of sin is death...(Romans 6:23a)"] and will go to Hell when we die, but God who is merciful has made a way for us to be forgiven and to stand in front of Him blameless. It is through Jesus Christ, God Himself, that you can be washed clean of all your sins and go to Heaven when you die.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life (John 3:16)." Jesus came to earth, lived as a man, died on the Cross to pay the punishment for our sins, was buried, and rose again on the third day. Jesus Christ was God Himself and was able to take the punishment we deserved because He was perfect. We could never save ourselves because we are sinful; therefore, God in His mercy sent Jesus to reconcile us to God.

You have to accept Jesus Christ as your personal Savior in order to have forgiveness of sins. "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me (John 14: 6)." Jesus says that it is only through Him you can be saved: your works will not save you (Ephesians. 2: 8-9: "For by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, not of works lest anyone should boast."), and no other religions will give salvation.

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and you will be saved...(Acts 16:31a).” This states that all you have to do is believe in Jesus for salvation. “That if you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you shall be saved...For ‘whoever calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved (Romans 10: 9 and 13).” Also in the latter part of Romans 6:23, it says: “...but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.” Jesus Christ's death, burial, and resurrection allow you, if you accept Him as your Savior, to have forgiveness of sins and to live for eternity in Heaven instead of Hell! This is amazing!

So will you accept Jesus as your personal Savior? All you have to do is pray to God and tell Him that you believe in Jesus for salvation. I hope you will! The following prayer is an example:

Dear God,

Thank you for sending Jesus to die for our sins. I recognize that I am a sinner, have broken Your law, and am unable to save myself. I recognize that it is only through Jesus that I can receive forgiveness of sins and eternal life. Please forgive me for my sins. Please, Lord, give me salvation. I want it. Thank You.

In Jesus' Name I pray, Amen.

If you have, you are now a child of God, a Christian, and God wants you to grow closer to Him by reading your Bible and praying. You should also go to a strong Bible-believing church so that you can fellowship with other Christians and hear the Word of God being preached. God loves you so much! Welcome to the Family of God!

If you have not accepted Jesus as your personal Savior, I pray that you would before it is too late. We are never promised tomorrow, but we have today. Let today be the day of your salvation!

¿Cómo salvó usted?

¿Conoce usted a Jesucristo como su Salvador personal? Usted necesita conocer a Cristo.

Todos tienen pecado. Cuando Adán y Eva desobedecieron a Dios, todos recibieron pecado. (Génesis 2:15-3) La ley nos muestra nuestros pecados. Nosotros no podemos guardar la ley porque todos somos pecadores. La Biblia dice: “No hay justo, ni aun uno... No hay quien haga lo bueno, no hay ni siquiera uno. (Romanos 3:10 y 12b)” En Romanos 3:23, dice: “Por cuanto todos pecaron, y están destituidos de la gloria de Dios.” Nosotros todos tenemos pecados y separamos de Dios. Porque nosotros tenemos pecado, tenemos muerte [“Porque la paga del pecado se merece... (Romanos 6: 23a)”] y vamos al infierno cuando morimos. Pero Dios quien es compasivo hizo una camino para nos. Jesucristo puede lavar nuestros pecados de nos y darnos cielo cuando nosotros morimos.

“Porque de tal manera amó Dios al mundo, que ha dado a su Hijo unigénito, para que todo aquel que en él cree, no se pierda, mas tenga vida eterna. (Juan 3: 16)” Jesús vino a la tierra, vivió como un hombre perfecto, murió en la cruz para pagar por nuestros pecados, enterró, y resucitó en la día tercer. Jesucristo es Dios y puede pagar por nuestras transgresiones porque él es perfecto. Nosotros no podemos pagar por nuestras transgresiones porque no somos perfecto. Dios da su Hijo quien nos reconcilió a Dios.

Usted tiene aceptar Jesucristo como su Salvador personal para tener perdón para sus pecados. Jesús dice: “Yo soy el camino, y la verdad, y la vida; nadie viene al Padre sino por mí. (Juan 14:6)” Sólo la fe en Jesús te puede salvar de penalidad de sus pecados. Sus obras no te puede salvar (“Porque por gracia sois salvos por medio de la fe; y esto no de vosotros, pues es don de Dios; no por obras, para que nadie se gloríe. (Efesios 2:8-9)”. Otras religiones no pueden salvarte. Sólo Jesús puede salvar y perdonar.

¿Cómo salvó usted? Hechos 16:31a dice:

“Cree en él Señor Jesucristo, y serás salvo, tu y tú casa.” Usted sólo necesita creer en Jesús! “Que si confesares con tu boca que Jesús es el Señor, y creyeres en tu corazón que Dios le levantó de los muertos, serás salvo. Porque con el corazón se cree para justicia, pero con la boca se confiesa para salvación. (Romanos 10: 9 y 13)” Romanos 6:23b dice: “Mas la dádiva de Dios es vida eterna en Cristo Jesús Señor nuestro.” Si usted lo acepta como su Salvador personal, el muerte, el entierro, y la resurrección de Jesús te dan perdón de pecados, y usted puede vivir en cielo por eternidad.

¿Acepta usted Jesús como su Salvador personal? Usted sólo necesita orar a Dios, y dice que cree en Jesús para salvación. Aquí está un oración que usted puede orar:

Dios,

Gracias para Jesús quien murió para pagar por mis pecados. Yo realizo que yo no puedo pagar por mis pecados y yo no puedo hacer nada por perdón. Yo no puedo guardar su ley. Yo realizo que es sólo Jesús quien puede perdonar mis pecados y me da la vida eterna. Perdona mis pecados, por favor. Yo quiero esta salvación. Me da salvación, por favor. Gracias, Señor.

En el nombre de Jesús, Amen.

Si usted aceptó Jesús como su Salvador, usted es un hijo de Dios, un Cristiano. Dios te quiere crecer en Cristo. Usted necesita leer su Biblia y orar a Dios. Necesita asistir una iglesia que cree en la Biblia porque necesita estar con otros cristianos y oír la Palabra de Dios. Dios te ama mucho. Bienvenida a la familia de Dios!

Si usted no acepta Jesús, yo oro que usted lo acepta antes de usted muere. Nosotros no tenemos una promesa que tenemos mañana, pero tenemos esta día. Hoy es la día para su salvación!
